LinkProfits

“As a leading affiliate program management company LinkProfits is expected to perform—recruit and manage affiliates faster, smarter, better. For the past year, The Partner Maker’s innovative approach to contact management helps us accomplish just that. Their development team offers a unique commitment to the affiliate marketing industry that gives us confidence in future software improvements. We couldn’t be more pleased with our investment in The Partner Maker’s solution.”

Chris Sanderson
General Manager,
Director
AMWSO

“The Partner Maker allows our team of managers to recruit and manage affiliates faster in an environment that demands optimal use of time—our most valued asset. Their innovative approach to contact management and partnership development helps us meet the demands of our growing customer base. The only thing more impressive than their solution is their level of commitment to the affiliate marketing industry. The TPM development team actively listens to customers and has implemented a range of custom features that we have requested with accuracy and speed. They’re at the top of their game.”
